

29th October Cumhuriyet Bayramı | Republic Day in Turkey

On the 29th of every year Turkey celebrates Cumhuriyet Bayramı or Republic Day in Turkey. This day marks the anniversary of the declaration of the independence of Turkey.

Turkish people celebrates Republic Day in Turkey every year on the 29th of October which is an official holiday in Turkey. Schools celebrate this day with presentations, sing songs, displays and readings.

Our school, 50.Yıl General Refet Bele Secondary School celebrated the 93rd of anniversary of 29th October Republic Day in 2016. All the pupils and the teachers took in part in this celebration. The students read poems, gave speech, sang songs and they decorated their classes and the whole school by hanging Turkish Flags and also wrote poems and drew pictures to explain the importance of the Republic Day.

All official government offices and schools are closed and there are many celebrations throughout the country. There are also official celebrations in the capital city of Ankara including a ceremony at the Anıtkabir, Atatürk's Mausoleum. As usual, all the places from official government offices, streets, private buildings to the houses, they were all decorated with the Turkish flags everywhere and flags and banners depicting Atatürk.
